International Certification & Certified Quality Control system

International certifications to ensure product meets and exceeds standards in the market place.

At COSMAX NBT, we believe that having control over quality from start to finish is absolutely critical.

The products we manufacture, are ultimately going to be ingested by consumers. For this reason, thorough testing on all finished products is completed to ensure the highest quality products. This testing may include HPLC, IR, GC, ICP, and UV analysis. Our facilities can help secure kosher and vegetarian certifications. If requested, we can also offer third-party Non-GMO, gluten-free, and other allergen specific testing services.

Our in-house regulatory department utilizes the latest equipment and testing methods available.

Our products will meet product specifications as requested. Our in house QA team makes sure all raw materials are tested upon receipt. The thorough testing continues throughout the manufacturing process. The QA team adheres to the strictest standards throughout the process.

Certifications are an important gauge for your manufacturing vendor.

At COSMAX NBT, we have the highest level of certifications including the NSF, TGA, ISO22000, kGMP and soon USP verified certification. We have the ability to produce items that meet Informed-Choice, Informed-Sport, Kosher and Halal ratings. COSMAX NBT continues to be certified across all areas of certification.

Specialized Ingredient Formulation

Our Innovation Standard

Meeting Clean Label Standards

WITHOUT sacrificing performance

No longer a trend, but a staple for formulation and development in the US market. All brands large and small are under pressure to meet the demands of the clean label standards and to demonstrate elements of ingredient and social responsibility through their launches.

Raw Material

Meeting frequently with raw material suppliers to source clean alternatives to newly restricted raw materials and to keep up with the latest of clean label formulation options.

Innovation

We have strategically assembled a team of some of the most innovative minds and renowned creators to provide our partners with the most elevated technology and customer service.

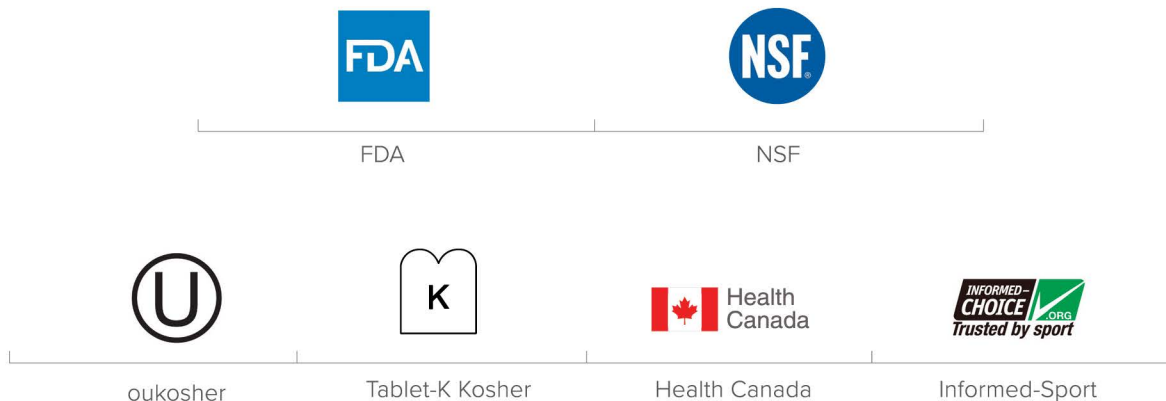

Delivery Format

Manufacturing capabilities in powder, hard/soft capsules and liquid and jelly.

Our Certification

GLOBAL No.1 HEALTH & BEAUTY COMPANY

Through a quality management team and the highest quality global R&D lab, we have proven to be a force that is committed to the success of our customer's supplements in the market.
